

A brief summary of global properties of solutions to the compressible Navier-Stokes equations

Ivan Straskraba

`strask@math.cas.cz`

Mathematical Institute, Czech Academy of Sciences,, Czech Republic

Global in time behavior of solutions to the compressible Navier-Stokes equations will be briefly surveyed. In particular, we address recent developments in the case of several space variables for weak solutions and in the one-dimensional case for regular solutions. A method for stabilization analysis will also be briefly outlined. Some open problems will be pointed out.