

Weak approximation of stochastic delay equations

Tony Shardlow
Tony.Shardlow@durham.ac.uk
Durham University, UK

I will present a technique for deriving weak convergence estimates for simple finite difference approximations of stochastic delay differential equations. The method is based on using the Kolmogorov equation on an extended state space. The analysis will be presented for the forward Euler method.