Hodge theory and multiplier ideals

Nero Budur

Mathematics, Johns Hopkins University

nbudur@math.jhu.edu

Abstract

The multiplier ideal is a birational geometer's tool to encode the local complexity of a singularity. We review some applications coming from a different point of view on them (mixed Hodge modules) developed together with M. Mustata and M. Saito.