Some Numercal Methods for Inverse Problems

Michael V. Klibanov

Abstract for the Minisimposium "Carleman estimates and inverse problems: theory and numerical methods"

We will present several versions of the so-called "convexification" method for coefficient inverse problems. This is a globally convergent method. In addition, we will present a numerical method for the determination of the initial condition in a hyperbolic equation