

Inverse Scattering and Nanoscale Optical Imaging

John Schotland
Bioengineering, University of Pennsylvania schotland@seas.upenn.edu

Abstract

This talk will review recent work on inverse scattering problems for wave fields with evanescent components. Applications to three-dimensional optical imaging with subwavelength resolution will be described