

RECOVERY OF SHAPES, HYPERMODELS AND BAYESIAN LEARNING

Erkki Somersalo

The talk deals with the recovery of shapes, or blocky objects, from indirect observations such as noisy blurred versions of an image or tomographic projection data. It is shown that Bayesian hypermodels can be used to derive effective algorithms for the recovery.